

FCC do not change the current law. Most people I know, do not want to be bothered by telephone calls from sales people. I had been getting at least 10 to 20 calls a week. At all hours. I don't get very many now. And I remind those I do get, that I am on the no call list. Don't mess with something that has helped countless people.